ABSTRACT

Nowadays, we are always busy with our own stuffs and most of us are engaged with very hectic life. We are so busy that we don't have time to remember a very small thing to very crucial stuffs that are so much important for us. This could range from remembering someone birthday's to remembering some important task that are really most important for us.

In order to resolve this problem and help people to get rid from remembering important events to noting down important tasks we came along with a cloud based solution "Grow teamly" mobile app project that will allow users to create their user id and join in that team so that they can actually see what are most important for them at all. Now, No worries of remembering events, keeping notes on paper.Instead just login into this app and there you go. Our mobile app will help you out to store your important events of employee and attendences of all the employee and their why to leave in Grow teaamly app.
